Dear Mr. Gumbel,

You may be aware that there is a major controversy brewing over the Davis Cup tennis match to be held in Newport Beach this next weekend. Because a team selected on a racial basis is competing from South Africa, there is going to be a major demonstration staged outside the tennis stadium.

We have enclosed a packet of materials which we have put together to explain why we are protesting the playing of this match.

Dennis Brutus, head of the South African Non-Racial Olympic Committee and a major spokesman in the international movement to isolate South Africa, will be in the Los Angeles area this weekend, and I have also enclosed a press release about his speaking engagements and his press conference called for Monday morning.

We hope that NBC will give proper coverage not only to the Davis Cup match, but also to those who oppose it.

Sincerely yours,

Robert Edgar
